OSHA

PROGRAMS

Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requires that only trained and authorized operators shall be permitted to operate powered industrial lifts. Training must include classroom, practical instruction, site and equipment specific instruction. Hugg & Hall's Training Department is committed to exceeding these stringent requirements; featuring experienced and highly trained instructors. Training is offered on warehouse, yard, and rough terrain forklifts, as well as mobile elevated work platforms and pedestrian training.

More than 70 percent of all forklift accidents are caused by operator error. Hugg & Hall's OSHA compliant training can boost productivity and profits by giving operators the tools and knowledge to do their best.

Forklift Operator Training Course –

This course is designed for anyone who wants to be qualified to operate a lift truck. This course includes a Safety Handbook, video, test, certificate, and operator's permit. Including classroom discussions of lift truck fundamentals, stability, daily checklist, safety and hands on operation.

Mobile Elevated Work Platform (MEWP) Training –

This course is designed for individuals who want to be qualified in operating a Mobile Elevated Work Platform. It includes a discussion on fundamentals, safety, and parts of a MEWP. It also includes a video, test, and hands-on operation.

Recertification – This course is designed for the operator who needs to be recertified for a forklift and MEWP operator's permit. This is a 2-3 hour course including a written exam and a hands on evaluation.

Pedestrian Training – This course is designed for any employee who works around lift truck operations. Topics covered include safety procedures and precautions that need to be taken around lift trucks.
